

Cascade Clamps

Cascade Clamps - Founded in Portland, Oregon in 1943, the Cascade Manufacturing Company began as a small machine shop employing just four individuals. Overall sales for that year amounted to about sixty thousand dollars. The very first recorded sales revenues involved the machining and assembly of stainless steel pipe fittings, valves and other parts. During 5 years of operation, the business had expanded to forty employees and their yearly sales volume had increased to 330 thousand dollars. These days, Cascade is one of the top global producers within the material handling trade.

Manufacture and design of the company's original hydraulic cylinder paved the way in Cascade's aggressive pursuit of new business possibilities. During the past 60 years, the material handling business has grown into a very advanced area and Cascade has proudly performed a part on this improvement. Cascade currently continues to grow as the premier provider of forklift accessories and different associated products. The business feels certain in their ability to continue to lead the way within the business by understanding customer's requirements in the future and remaining competitive in the global market.

In the 1950's, Cascade started designing, making and selling hydraulic attachments. Manufacturing was finished in the year 1956 on a brand new office so as to accommodate all the office and plant operations in Portland, Oregon at the company's present center of operations. After fifteen years of business, total staff reached a hundred and eighty staff and sales had reached nearly 2.3 million dollars.

1959 in Springfield, Austin a second production facility was built. The year 1960 marked Cascade's preliminary transfer into the global world of the material handling industry as the business recognized interest in Australia, the Netherlands and England.

In 1964, the business altered its name to the Cascade Corporation. Afterward in the year 1965, the company went public with a preliminary offering of two hundred thousand shares of common stock. Since then the company has expanded its manufacturing facilities throughout the continental USA to the locations Warner Robins Georgia to go along with its already present plants in Portland, Oregon and Springfield, Austin. Cascade products are manufactured worldwide thanks to many subsidiary operations. In the year 1944, a new facility was completed in Almere, the Netherlands which is Cascade's European control center. This plant is made to be the ultimate customer support centre.

Continuing to develop, Cascade expanded their product offering further in the year 1996 and 1997 with the remarkable acquisition of five corporations, along with the worldwide best in blades, the Kenhar Corporation.
